

MID TERM EXAMINATION

Paper: Mid Term Examination - Set A | Duration: 3 Hours | Max Marks: 20 | Date: 13-03-2026

Total Questions: 10 | Answer all questions.

Name: _____

Roll No: _____

Student Sign: _____

Teacher Sign: _____

SECTION A: MCQS

1. What is a human being fundamentally understood as, according to the provided text? [2 Marks]
 - a) A physical, material entity only.
 - b) A conscious, sentient entity only.
 - c) A co-existence of the Self (I) and the Body.
 - d) A collection of temporary physical activities.
2. Which of the following accurately describes the nature and duration of the Self's needs? [2 Marks]
 - a) Quantitative and temporary.
 - b) Qualitative and continuous.
 - c) Physico-chemical and definite.
 - d) Physical facilities and limited.
3. How are the needs of the Body primarily fulfilled, according to the source text? [2 Marks]
 - a) Through right understanding and right feelings.
 - b) By continuous activities of desiring and thinking.
 - c) By physico-chemical things such as food, water, and air.
 - d) By feelings such as respect, trust, and affection.
4. The text states that the Self is engaged in continuous activities that form our imagination. Which set of activities constitutes this imagination? [2 Marks]
 - a) Eating, walking, and talking.
 - b) Desiring, thinking, and expecting.
 - c) Recognizing, fulfilling, and responding.
 - d) Nurturing, protecting, and resting.
5. What distinguishes the Self's response from the Body's response, particularly when based on incorrect information? [2 Marks]
 - a) The Body's response is based on knowing, assuming, recognizing, and fulfilling.
 - b) The Self's response is mechanical and definite, like hunger signals.
 - c) The Self's response can become indefinite if it is based on wrong assumptions.
 - d) Both the Self and the Body respond solely through definite signals.
6. According to the text, what is the role of the Body in relation to the Self? [2 Marks]
 - a) The Body decides on its own and the Self follows its impulses.
 - b) The Body is an independent entity, separate from the Self's decisions.
 - c) The Body is only an instrument of the Self, executing its instructions.

d) The Body is the conscious entity, while the Self is merely physical.

7. As described in the section "How do we understand the harmony in the Self?", what are the three sources from which imagination can arise? [2 Marks]

- a) Hunger, thirst, and rest.
- b) Preconditioning, sensation, and natural acceptance.
- c) Physical comfort, respect, and trust.
- d) Desire, thought, and expectation.

8. According to the text, what are the two essential components required for the feeling of prosperity? [2 Marks]

- a) Unlimited wealth and continuous accumulation.
- b) Right assessment of physical needs and ensuring availability of physical facilities.
- c) Qualitative needs and continuous happiness.
- d) Physical comfort and temporary satisfaction.

9. Why does the text emphasize that "No amount of physical facility can satisfy the Self if right feelings are missing"? [2 Marks]

- a) Physical facilities are quantitative and only address temporary needs of the Body.
- b) The Self's needs for happiness are qualitative, continuous, and fulfilled by right understanding and feelings, which are distinct from physical facilities.
- c) The Body is merely an instrument, and its needs are secondary to external harmony.
- d) The Self primarily engages in physical activities, which are not supported by feelings.

10. Based on the text, what is the key difference between 'Prosperity' and 'Accumulation'? [2 Marks]

- a) Prosperity is external and unlimited, while accumulation is an inner feeling.
- b) Prosperity is an inner feeling stemming from right assessment of needs and their fulfillment, whereas accumulation is an external pursuit of physical facilities.
- c) Accumulation leads to contentment and sharing, while prosperity often results in dissatisfaction.
- d) Both terms fundamentally describe the same process of acquiring physical facilities, with no significant distinction.

--- End of Question Paper ---